Warm Greetings...

Dear all,

We are proud to bring to you this edition of our annual college magazine SPARK!! This year we tried to take a flight of fantasy with the theme-Dreamscape! Thanks to our student editor Pooja who conducted a small activity in class which helped us understand that we lead our lives the way we fantasize. Our fantasies help us to fulfil our future dreams. We are really infused by our fantasies, they can help establish goals and provide motivation to strive for them. We live in a culture that is so committed to rationality that we tend to downgrade anything that is non-scientific. That is combined with the longstanding work-ethic to be productive and time spent daydreaming is not viewed as productive, it can be considered shirking. However, fantasies are indispensable to have a fulfilled life. Without fantasies life is impoverished but if you're flooded with fantasies, there's no reality. At the same time, if you have no fantasies, you're bored and boring to others. You need fantasy, but there has to be a way to put the brakes on. If you can't distinguish between fantasy and reality, you're no good to yourself and others.

This annual magazine SPARK is a reflection of the college activities- the achievements, the spirit of all the students and teachers, the smiles and the laughter, fantasies and goals, experiences and everything that is a part of the B.Ed. course, be it curricular, co-curricular or extra-curricular. I'm sure you will all be happy to recall all the special and lovely moments of the year gone by and feel proud with a sense of accomplishment! I take this opportunity to thank the MES' Management and Principal Dr. Sally Enos for making everything possible.

Enjoy reading!!!
